

Course Record Keeping That Meets Regulatory Standards

Course Description:

This course discusses the importance of record keeping and how "great" record keeping is as a key component to continually improve your patient's quality of care. Dr. Gilles Lamarche, a past president of the College of Chiropractors of Ontario, will help you understand how to meet the requirements and standards to maintain quality chiropractic records for those practicing in North America. It will outline the paradigms beginning with the initial visit, intake, consult, x-rays, report of findings and follow through to every day patient care.

Course Format: Video
